

JOURNAL OF PUNJAB STUDIES

Volume 19

Number 2

Fall 2012

Articles

Contents

|                                  |                                                                                               |     |
|----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Pritam Singh              | Globalisation and Punjabi Identity:Resistance, Relocation andReinvention (Yet Again!) | 153 |
| Tahir Kamran              | Urdu Migrant Literati and Lahore'sCulture                                                 | 173 |
| Ilyas Chattha             | Economic Change and CommunityRelations in Lahore before Partition                         | 193 |
| Akhtar HussainSandhu | Sikh Failure on the Partition of Punjab1947                                               | 215 |
| Rana Nayar                | The Novel as a Site for CulturalMemory: Gurdial Singh's Parsa                      | 233 |
| Ashutosh Kumar            | 2012 Assembly Elections in Punjab:Ascendance of a State Level Party                       | 255 |
| Book Reviews       | Contents                                                                                      | 275 |
| Reviews            | Reviews                                                                                       | 277 |
| In Remembrance     |                                                                                               | 289 |